3.8 Permission to Attend Tryout When Moving Prior to New Season

If a player will be moving prior to the start of the new hockey season, and as a result of the move will no longer be eligible to participate where he played hockey the previous season, the OMHA Vice-President for the District of the intended move, on the recommendation of the OMHA Regional Executive Members for the Areas from and to which the player resides and will be moving, may grant temporary permission for the player to attend tryouts in the new residential Centre and/or its AAA Zone, provided that all information regarding the proposed move has been submitted to the OMHA Vice-President and involved Regional Executive Members by way of a TEMPORARY NOTICE OF INTENT TO MOVE Form.

This temporary permission is not a determination of change of residency nor acknowledgement of a changed residency. Applicants are required to provide an OMHA PLAYER TRANSFER FORM FOR RESIDENTIAL MOVES and all finalized supporting documentation, as required with that Form, to confirm that a residential move actually has taken place. These documents must be provided to the OMHA approving Regional Executive Member by the date of occupancy of the new address or by September 1 of the new hockey season, whichever is earlier. Once these documents are received, and the Appropriate Regional Executive Member has approved the transfer, the process will be completed.

If the applicant is not able to provide confirmation of residential move by the noted date, the applicant will be required to return to his previous residential Centre and/or AAA Zone.

NOTE: A player is not eligible to obtain an AAA Waiver while attending AAA Tryouts with Temporary Permission, nor is such a player eligible to participate in any exhibition or tournament games while under temporary permission status.
